

CONTENTS

The Place Names of Glenville . . . . .	1 - 7
Historical Gleanings From Old-Time Maps and Deeds . . . . .	9 - 26
The Indian Occupation of Glenville, New York . . . . .	27 - 49
The Mills and Other Industries of Early Glenville, New York . . . . .	51 - 72
Early Settlers of Glenville and Their Churches . . . . .	75 - 95
Slavery In Early Glenville, N. Y. . . . .	97 - 117
The Flowing Springs of Glenville . . . . .	119 - 134
The Brass Bands of Glenville . . . . .	135 - 160
Historical Tablets and Markers of Glenville, N. Y. (Part One). . . . .	161 - 186
Historical Tablets and Markers of Glenville, N. Y. (Part Two). . . . .	187 - 224
Prehistoric Man In the Mohawk Region . . . . .	225 - 235
Cayadutta . . . . .	236 - 246
Story of the Maalwyck Its Settlers; Its House Long a Famous Landmark, and Its School, the First North of the Mohawk River . . . . .	247 - 261
Wolf Hollow . . . . .	263 - 289
Stories and Legends of Our Indian Paths . . . . .	290 - 348
The Horse Artillery and the Washington Continentals of Glenville, New York . . . . .	349 - 415
The Schenectady Patent of 1684 and the Common Land of Glenville, N. Y. . . . .	417 - 431
The Battle of the Beukendaal July 18, 1748, by Donald A. Keefer . . . . .	432 - 440
Alplaus Once Camping Ground of a French Army . . . . .	443 - 457
Index	